Board hears maintenance report

Neil Jensen named CHS vice-principal

Appointment of Neil M. Jensen as an assistant principal of Carmel High was announced at last week Wednesday's Carmel District school board meeting.

He has been a counselor at the high school for a year and a half and in the local school district for 17 years. He was a 7th and 8th grade teacher at old Sunset School from 1950-59, with 1957 at River School. Jensen next moved to Middle School as a counselor from 1961-66.

Raised in Oceanside, he earned his bachelor's degree at USC, majoring in political science. He has a master's in counseling and administration also from USC.

He lives with his wife, Maxine, in Carmel; they have five children: John at MPC, Carol at Carmel High, Noel and twins Margaret and Martha at Middle School.

Jensen's appointment gives the high school two assistant principals, although both, Miss Dorothy Wright, and Jensen continue with counseling as well.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, Supt. Harris Taylor told the board that the Association of Carmel Teachers (ACT) were the only professional group which responded to his letter regarding the negotiating council and requested that the trustees certify 137 active members in good standing. ACT will now nominate five members to the negotiating council by Feb. 1 and all matters will come through them. The first organization meeting will be on Feb. 10.

The board checked the new 1968-69 school calendar and asked that it be passed on to the teaching organization for study and recommendation. The board members suggested retaining the regular 180 teaching days in the district instead of 179, which the county had planned.

Richard Wilsdon was named by his fellow members to be the legislative representative for the board, along with some joking that since he had campaigned for the board seat on a basis of his knowledge of the law, they would let him handle all legislative matters.

Dr. Taylor reported on the language arts, science and foreign language curriculum committee and stated that the five member committees will be more deeply committed and involved in the next year. He also asked the board to consider release time for teachers participating on the committees with possible remuneration in addition.

Business manager Walt Hinton reported on the status of the maintenance program. His report showed that one quarter of the long-range five year plan had been accomplished since the passage of the override tax.

Portions of the work accomplished, school by school, were presented as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL

Resurfacing of roads, installation of 10 inch drainage pipe at football field and track, complete remodeling of home economics complex, renovation of cafeteria, painting of entire exterior, renovation of restroom, replacing of darkening drapes throughout, painting and renovation of restrooms, repair of water and steam lines, and general cleanup of grounds.

"Chili a la Carte" dinner on Saturday

On Saturday, Feb. 3, the Carmel Valley Youth Organization will sponsor a "Chili a-la-Carte" to be open to the public.

They will begin serving at the CV Community Center on Ford Rd., at 7:30 p.m. Price is 35¢ for the first serving; 25¢ for refills. Bring the whole family!

Natural gas is almost here

A ceremony marking the arrival of natural gas in Carmel Valley Village will be held at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 7.

A gas street lamp will be lit, under the oaks at Carmel Valley Rd. near Paso Hondo, as the valve is turned to start the flow of gas.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company announced this week that it is notifying new natural gas customers in various areas in Carmel Valley by letter approximately two weeks before service will be available to them.

Claude A. Hicks, PG&E Carmel manager, said that each customer should take the following steps:

1. Have a plumber extend the house line into the "tee" at the end of the already laid PG&E service line at the location of the company's meter. The plumber will disconnect the liquid petroleum gas supply and make a pressure test of the new house line in the presence of the Monterey County building inspector. When the inspector has attached his approval tag to the installation, the plumber should reconnect the fuel supply and relight the pilot lights of appliances to avoid inconvenience to the family until the natural gas service is connected by PG&E.

2. PG&E cannot establish service until the approval tag has been attached. When this has been done, the customer should make an appointment through the Carmel office of the company for a serviceman to convert appliances to burn natural gas. There will be no charge for conversion of appliances from liquid petroleum to natural gas.

3. If the customer has oil burning equipment, he should have the plumber install a conversion kit to adapt them to natural gas.

"The Carmel Valley is an area with bright prospects for further residential and commercial developments, which the availability of natural gas will encourage," Hicks said. "This new service will make an important contribution to the Valley's future."

Sheriff's Blotter

Two youths knocked down a Valley woman, Marilyn Stainbrook, while she was carrying groceries Sunday evening from her car to her home at 56 Lupin Lane and stole her purse containing $30 and seven credit cards. She told sheriff's deputies that one of the youths, estimated 14 or 15 years old, grabbed her around the throat and pushed her to the ground.

Jan. 27 – Annabelle Davis reported theft of $320 and checks from her trailer home in Cachagua.

Jan. 27 – Elizabeth B. Rayne of Robles del Rio reported that someone knocked on her door, but no one was there when answered.

Jan. 26 – Mario San Paolo rported his cabin in Cachagua broken into.

Jan 26 – Four boys drove off from Rancho Safeway with bags of groceries for which they had not paid; groceries were recovered.

Jan. 24 – Charles A. Wall reported damage to a house he is building on Esquiline Rd. A neighbor described children playing in the house.

Jan. 23 – Verne Peckham reported that 20 PG&E traffic cones were stolen from Calle de Los Ositos in Robles del Rio.

Jan. 23 – Tod Robert reported his grandmother's house at 116 W. Carmel Valley Rd. was burglarized, with loss of $130 and nine credit cards, which were recovered.

Jan. 23 – William J. Patenaude of Alta and Dolores Sts., Carmel, noting two men loading bucket seats, blinked his lights. They dropped the seats and fled; he notified a sheriff's deputy.

SPORTS

Scoring its first Mission Trail Athletic League basketball win of the season, Carmel High downed Hollister 63-61 in a thriller Friday night on the home court.

The Padres are scheduled to meet Palma here next Friday.

Carmel also won the freshman game against Hollister, 50-48, but dropped the JV contest, 65-56.

Carmel top varsity scorers were Chris Laiolo with 16 and Bill Cox 13.

WRESTLING

Hollister was the winner in wrestling against Carmel here Thursday. Varsity score was 43-8, JV 41-8.

Carmel winners by pinning were Tim Dyer for the varsity and Walter Black for the JVs; point winners were Rick Stemple for the varsity and Tom Sanford, JV.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Carmel Middle School basketball squads had a busy and relatively successful week last week.

A combined 7th and 8th grade team Monday downed St. Angela of Pacific Grove, 47-34. Scoring eight points each, Jerry Argust and Tod Gebhart paced Carmel, assisted by the nice playing of Rod Deas, Terry Seeders, John Engstrom and Albert Hood.

Middle School 8A team Saturday won its first Monterey League contest, taking Colton 36-34. Gebhart was high-point man with 18, followed by Albert Hood with 8, Seeders 7, Bob Conlan 4 and Barry Moore 3.

Colton's 8B team won 35-25. Carmel's Jerry Argust led scoring with 13, Ted Hall was next with 8. Middle School's A and B teams also lost; standouts for the locals were Rocky Maguire and Mike Holbert.

Tularcitos lost to Middle School 6th graders Saturday. For Carmel Jeff Hall led with 13 points, David Hunter 5 and Bill Lemos 4. Other standouts for Carmel were Mike Sullivan and Dana Booth.

Middle School also won a 5th grade contest against Tularcitos, 19-15. Kim Cater contributed 4 points for Carmel, Jeff Vandervort and Brendon Sullivan 2 each and Craig Dill 1.

Carmel High's varsity, under the direction of Coach Jason Harbert, Saturday staged a basketball clinic for 7th and 8th graders.

Heart fund benefits young and old

Feb. 4 marks the kick-off day for the Heart Fund Drive. To many it will also mean the annual Heart Fund Cocktail Party, a very pleasurable way to donate funds to the cause. To others it will mean..."another doggone drive asking for money."

But to many others it will mean just one more step toward early recognition of heart problems and more efficient means of overcoming them.

One significant step which will be taken this year in the early diagnosis of heart problems will be a heart sound, screening program carried on in the tri-county schools at the fourth grade level. This is made possible by a portable computer called a Phono-Cardio-Scan. This machine not only will detect abnormality but it will classify it in one of three categories.

A child showing an abnormality in heart beat will then be re-screened and then would be checked by a pediatrict cardiologist.

In April, the same community service committee of the Heart Association will have a stroke rehabilitation workshop to train nurses in care of heart patients.

In February, a physicians' symposium on cardiac surgery, with top heart specialists from throughout the United States, will be held on the Peninsula.

Therefore... whether Feb. 4 means a swinging cocktail party... or another doggone drive asking for money... to those (and this could mean any of us) who will learn what it means to have a heart problem... it could mean LIFE!

—GD

IN SHORT

THE FOLLOWING remarkably candid press release was sent to the United Press International bureau by the Rural Fire Protection Co., which serves the communities surrounding Phoenix:

"On Feb. 2, 1968, we will be 20 years old. We are the largest, and damn near the only, private fire department in the world, and almost as important.

"The department started on Feb. 2, 1948 with one truck, one station and $27 in the bank. Now we have 30 trucks, 25 men (something wrong here), seven stations and owe $187,371.49. This is progress.

"We call the anniversary of our experiment in free-enterprise-gone-wild to your attention in the hope that we will get some publicity out of it, and that we will make money from the publicity and that it will cost us nothing."

We'll give them a little publicity since our own fire department got news coverage in Arizona the day they burned the house down at the CV Golf and Country Club last year.

SAM BOARDMAN, formerly with The Outlook advertising department, is now with the Antioch Ledger in the East Bay area.

MR. GROUNDHOG

In a recent letter to the staff at The Outlook Sam was discussing how COLD it had been up there... about 30 degrees... What would he have done down here during that week before Christmas when the thermometer dropped to 13 degrees in Carmel Valley. Sam, you're living in the tropics now!

THE WORLD'S most unreliable weather prognosticator is about to make his annual prediction.

According to American folklore, the ground hog, or woodchuck, awakens from his long winter sleep on Feb. 2. He sticks his head out of his home in the ground and looks around.

If he sees his shadow he crawls back into his hole and this is supposed to mean that there will be six more weeks of winter weather.

If he doesn't see his shadow, he stays out of his hole, and this is supposed to mean that spring weather soon will come.

Well, what about this?

Not much. World Book Encyclopedia's article on "February" says bluntly, "Only superstitious people believe this story," while World Book's article on "Ground-Hog Day" says more tactfully, "Science has not confirmed this."

So it seems that on the whole, the weather bureau is more reliable than the average ground hog.

The Rhyming Philosopher

We hear a thousand voices day and night
Demanding more than common sense can give,
And claiming special privilege their right:
Denying others such prerogative.
No other land affords this freedom's choice
To flout the law and shout their creeds of hate,
While guaranteeing criminals a voice
For their defense and paid for by the State.
By printed word or rabble in the streets
We hear the ceaseless clamor of dissent,
But nothing satisfies and nothing meets
The menace of minorities intent.
But still our Constitution guarantees
A proper hearing for the least of these!

But where in this morass of turbulence
Is heard the voice of common decency?
Has then the vast majority no sense
Of counter protest?
Cast off this apathy:
Speak out, speak up, and let your words ring true
Lest history mistake their voice for you!

Paula Clampett tells engagement

Mrs. Paul Hamilton Clampett of Carmel this week announced the engagement of her daughter, Paula Robinson Clampett, to Mr. Eugene James of Sacramento and Dos Palos. Miss Clampett is the daughter of the late Paul Hamilton Clampett; her sister is Jane Hamilton Clampett.

The prospective bride attended Carmel schools and Valley School for Girls in Tucson. She graduated from Carmel High School in 1964 and is currently attending Monterey Peninsula Junior College.

Mr. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. James of Dos Palos, and is the brother of Daniel, Jenell, and Michelle James. He attended Dos Palos schools, graduating from Dos Palos High School in 1962. He is also a graduate of Arizona State University.

No definite date for the wedding has been set.

Carmel and Monterey Unitarians merge

Carmel's Unitarian Church in the Round will meet next Sunday for the last time in the Nix Studio on Mission at 8th St., for on the following Sunday, Feb. 11, Church in the Round members will join the membership of the Monterey Peninsula Unitarian Church at 15 Prescott on Cannery Row in the second story above "The Warehouse."

AN ART EXHIBIT of 28 oils and watercolors by Helen B. Dooley, Carmel artist, at the Seaside City Hall has been extended through Feb. 5. Mrs. Dooley stands beside her watercolor, "Iglesia de Guaymas, Mexico." Open daily from 8 to 5, except weekends, the exhibit is one of a series of monthly shows by artists of the Peninsula area. (Al Weber photo)

Last Sunday the membership voted to ask its board of trustees to take the necessary legal steps to effect a merger with the Monterey Unitarian Church. Members voted unanimously in favor of the merger except for two abstainers; on the previous Sunday the Monterey church membership unanimously approved the merger.

The Rev. Sid Peterman of the Monterey church will be minister of the unified church with the Rev. Karel Vit of the Church in the Round as associate minister.

Merging of the two Unitarian groups, which split some six years ago, is expected to facilitate construction of their own church building on part of the nine acres they own on Carmel Hill at the intersection of Highway 1 and Aguajito Rd.

New board of trustees of the merged church includes representatives of both former boards as follows: Arthur Dunn, Kenneth Roberts, David Maat, Betty Wythe, Ted Gawain, Richard Robinson, Jane Renoir, Bill Thorstead and Charles Richmond.

Carmel Woman's Club to hear noted social commentator Feb. 5

Keith Berwick, historian, author and wager of war against what he terms "a dangerous neutralism" in today's society will appear as speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club, Monday Feb. 5 at 2 p.m.

Mr. Berwick has chosen as his topic, "The Potential of Women." Drawing upon his knowledge of the past, the speaker deals with present ills, potentialities and trends. His conversational talents have been amply demonstrated through his moderating of the TV program "Speculation," which has been called by the critics, "the fastest-moving sedentary sixty minutes around."

A former associate editor of the Pacific Historical Review, he frequently contributes to leading popular and scholarly journals. He is the author of "The Federal Age, 1789-1892; America in the Process of Becoming," and is now working on "American Heroes: Classic, Romantic and Modern," scheduled for publication by the Oxford University Press.

Mrs. Robert Bannister, club president, will preside and the speaker will be presented by Mrs. J.C. Hale, program chairman.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

Famous Brazilian guitarists to perform at Sunset Center

Internationally-famous Brazilian guitarists, Los Indios Tabajaras, will present a concert at the Sunset Theatre in Carmel on Sunday, Feb. 11 at 8:30 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the city of Carmel through its Cultural Commission and Sunset Manager Cole Weston.

Los Indios Tabajaras are two of 30 children born to Chief Mitanga of the Tabajaras Tribe in Ceara, Brazil. They have recently completed a globe-circling tour which included Japan, the Orient, and Europe, concluding with a final appearance at the famous San Remo Festival.

They have appeared on such TV programs as the Jack Paar Show, the Ed Sullivan Show and five times on the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show.

Recording exclusively for RCA Victor, they have completed seven albums. Their latest, entitled, "Their Very Special Touch," is with symphony orchestra.

Los Indios Tabajaras perform in colorful costumes and present classical, ethnic and popular numbers. They are equally at home playing and singing their native Brazilian folk music, popular pieces, or playing Chopin, Tchaikovsky and Bach.

All seats, at $2.75 and $3.75, are reserved

Tickets are available at Central Box Office, Carmel; Abinante Music Store and ABC Music Center, Monterey.

Reservations may be had by calling Sunset Center Box Office, 624-9892.

One of the Valley's oldest houses has much rustic charm

THE OLD REDWOOD house sits on a cliff overlooking Carmel River with a sweeping view of the hills. Grapes growing along the portal were brought from Napa by Mrs. Frank Porter's grandfather to their ranch on Mount Toro. When the house was built, slips were transplanted to the Valley because they are so delicious.

Bettie O'Neal's home in Robles del Rio is one of the oldest houses in the Valley, having been started by Frank and Jet Porter in 1926 as a summer place, overlooking the deep part of Carmel River which quickly became known as Porter's Pool.

...Started in 1926 is correct, for originally the house consisted only of the present living room area with a big porch along the side, facing toward the river. It didn't take long before additional rooms were built and in 1941 a second story was added to the redwood house.

Bettie moved there 12 years ago when the Porters decided to build a new home off of Country Club Dr. (watch next week's Outlook for a story on that house).

Structurally nothing has been done to the house since 1941. The same random width oak floors, the ponderosa pine paneling and the old shutters are still very much a part of the decor which gives the place such a charming atmosphere.

This is one of the few houses in the Valley with radiators and hot water heat. When the old furnace gave out, the order had to be sent to Cleveland, Ohio, to find a company that could supply a suitable one to fire up the boiler.

Even though it "grew just like Topsy," one of the features that Bettie likes most is the plan. There is a great deal of privacy within the house because it rambles, yet circulation within the structure is efficient. Having the river at her feet, so to speak, is one of the other attractions for Bettie.

Several years ago, the house was the setting for a teenage book, "The Cliff House Mystery," written by a friend and neighbor, Betty Antoncich. The book used the rock cliff on which the house stands, but added a secret cave in the sheer bank which does not really exist...at least none of the neighborhood children have ever found it...and they have tried.

The outdoor chalk rock patio was designed for maximum enjoyment with an enormous barbecue pit, a wrought iron wood stove built-in adjacent to it and a large fireplace to gather around. There is also an old stone "wishing wellm" with piped-in water, the source of which Bettie has never found.

The epitome of what we think of as Carmel Valley greets Bettie from both living room and bedroom windows...the river far below with the upper Valley mountains and sky completing the picture.

BELOW – TILES for the kitchen bar tell the story of Don Quixote and were brought from Spain by Muriel Vanderbilt for her Valley estate (now Los Laureles Lodge). The old shutters were the original ones used on the Blanco School near Salinas.

SIERRA CLUB MEMBERS wade across the Escalante River during a trip to the beautiful section of Glen Canyon prior to its disappearance under the waters of Lake Powell, formed when the Glen Canyon Dam was built.

Slide program benefits Peninsula Choral Society

A program of color slides by Dale Wilson and Roger Gibbon covering Escalente Canyon and the Southern Utah Wilderness Area will be given at Brey Hall, Carmel High School, Friday, Feb. 2 at 7 and 8:45 p.m.

These photographs, not previously shown to the public, were taken in May, 1964, on a Sierra Club hi-lite trip through the little-known but unusually beautiful area, much of which is now covered by the waters of Lake Powell back of Glen Canyon Dam.

This is a rare opportunity to see such scenic gems as the Cathedral of the Desert, Blind Canyon, great arches, Indian ruins and wildflowers in their magnificent canyon setting.

The showing is a benefit to raise funds for Monterey Peninsula Choral Society. Voluntary contributions will be received.

Carmel Art Museum sponsors films

The Carmel Museum of Art will sponsor a series of distinguished films from the British Empire.

Titled "The Best of British Films," the series will open at the Carmel Village Theater, Dolores near Seventh, Wednesday, Feb. 7, with Alex Guinness in one of his first and most successful comedy films, "Kind Hearts and Coronets."

The series will continue through Feb. 20, with a different film each evening. The fare ranges from drama — Laurence Olivier's "Hamlet" — to the dance — three-time academy award winning "The Red Shoes."

Some of the titles and dates of the features are as follows: "Genevieve," Feb. 9; "Room at the Top," Feb. 17; "Tight Little Island," Feb. 15; "The Red Shoes," Feb. 11; "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning," Feb. 14, and Dickens' classic "Great Expectations" on Feb. 18.

Symphony to give Carmel program Tues.

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Jan deJong, opens its 1968 concert season on Feb. 5 in the Salinas High School Auditorium and Feb. 6 in Sunset Auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

The world premiere of a new composition, and the appearance of Concertmaster Michael Rosenker as featured artist highlight the Monday and Tuesday evening performances.

Haydn's "Symphony No. 104 in D Major," which is more popularly known as the London Symphony, will be the first work on the program. Written in 1795, it was the last symphony to be composed by this master of the classical Viennese school.

Switching to the contemporary scene, Walter Kelsey's "Morning Mysticism" is scheduled. This accomplished local composer has written more than a hundred works ranging from string quartets to an entire symphony. His latest piece is a modern suite that is polytonally impressionistic in style, and it is the fifth to be introduced by the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

After intermission, the spotlight swings to Concertmaster Michael Rosenker, who has selected Tschaikowsky's "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D Major" for his local soloist debut.

A violinist of international reputation, he has been concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, the NBC Symphony Orchestra and the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra with Fritz Reiner.

Tickets for this first program can be obtained at the Monterey County Symphony Association office located in Carmel's Sunset Center or by calling 624-4125.

South Pacific Islands are scene of new Explorerama film

The second program of the current Explorerama Carmel series, "Return to the South Pacific," a new feature length color travel adventure film, will be narrated in person by its photographer, Thayer Soule, at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 10, at Sunset Auditorium.

The film highlights Hawaii, Tahiti, Fiji, Guadalcanal, the Solomons and New Guinea.

Single tickets at $1.75 are now available at Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey.

Heart Fund goes Mexican

A Mexican theme will prevail for the Heart Fund Ball to be held Sunday, Feb. 4, at the Holiday Inn, Carmel. All decorations will be coordinated to the theme, in keeping with the Olympic games. Judges for the Culinary Exhibition include Fulton Freeman, American Ambassador to Mexico; Gus Arriola, creator of the cartoon "Gordo;" Gordon Tevis, well known polo player, amateur gourmet chef and entrepreneur; Adolfo G. Dominguez, Mexican Consul. They will judge the many professional entries in the exhibition sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Hotel Association, as well as amateur entries.

Those interested in entering the amateur division may call Tom Oliver, chairman of the Cuisine Competition at 624-3811. Judging will be completed by 5:30 when the doors will be opened to the public.

The $7.50 admission covers complimentary cocktails (from 5:30-7), hors d'oeuvres and dancing.

Basil A. "Bill" Coleman is general chairman for the sponsoring group, Mrs. Robert Stanton, judging chairman; Jack Dougherty and Al Fry, co-chairmen, coordinating committee; Thomas Oliver, cuisine competition chairman; Dan Ponder, host chairman, Graeme McKenzie and Mrs. Betty Carr, co-chairmen, ticket committee; William Godwin, Jr. and Jack McCubbin, co-chairmen, bars; Benard McMenamin, Jr., music chairman; Paul Reed, posters; Joan Snow, decorations; Howard E. Allen, prizes and medals; Miss Roma Philbrook, secretary and Dan Ponder, treasurer.

Studio comedy to open Feb. 9

"Generation," the William Goodhart comedy, opens Feb. 9 at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel.

On Broadway, Henry Fonda played an advertising man whose determination to understand the new generation undergoes a traumatic test when he meets his recently acquired son-in-law. Not only is the latter a beard-wearing rebel against all the institutions and conventions of modern society, but he and his wife are planning the home delivery of their imminent baby without medical assistance.

He resolves not to alienate the sincere young couple, but out of concern for his daughter, the father enlists the help of several friends in an effort to forestall the do-it-yourself project. He finally smuggles in an obstetrician in disguise.

While all this is going on, the younger and older generations take some telling shots at each other's values in a timely, but amusing confrontation.

"Generation" is under the direction of Don Osborn with setting and lighting by Bob Evans, Jr. The comedy will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through March 24.

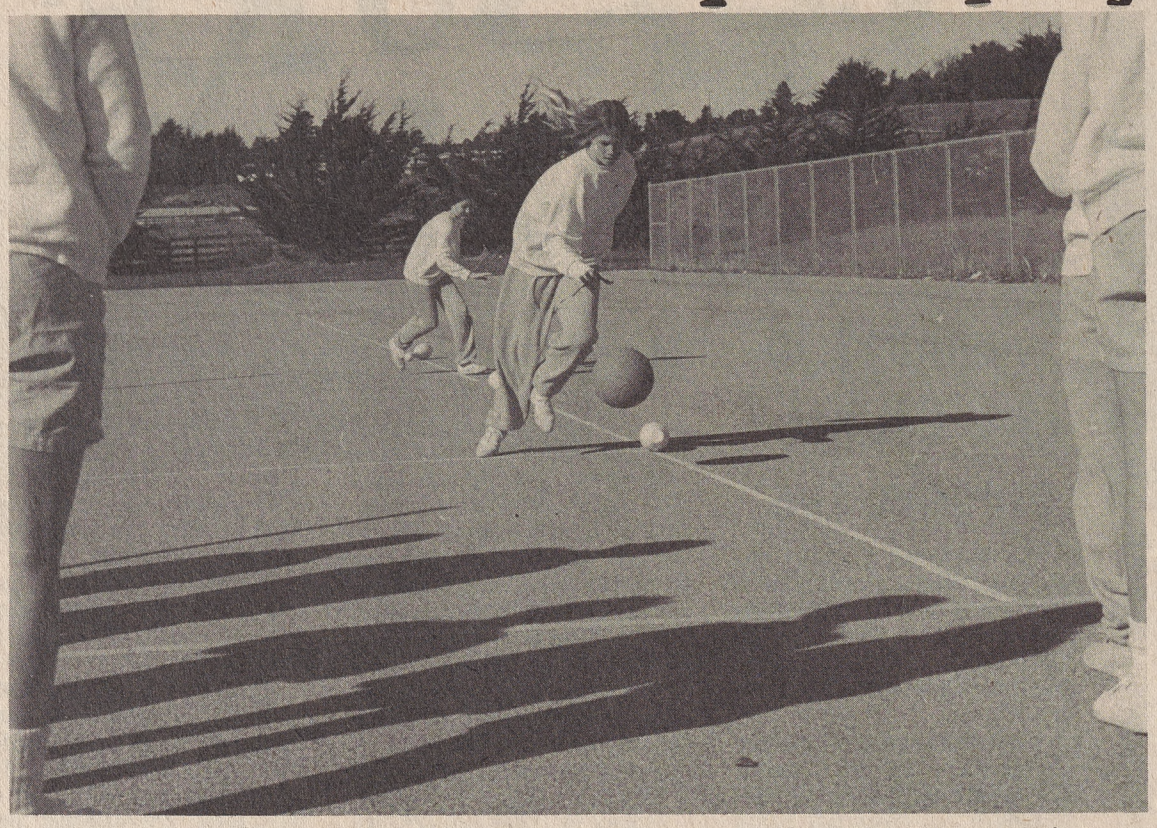
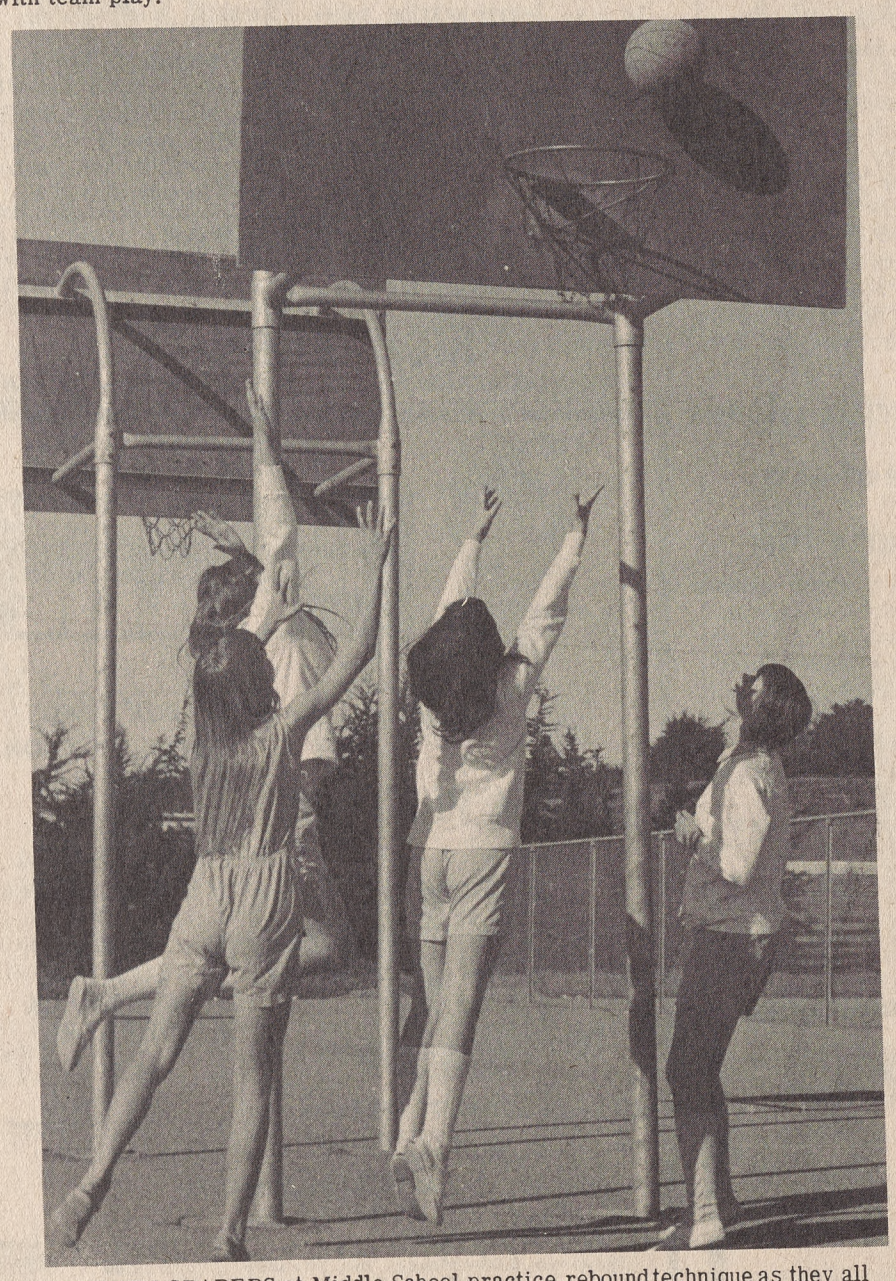
CUSD sports program plans for system

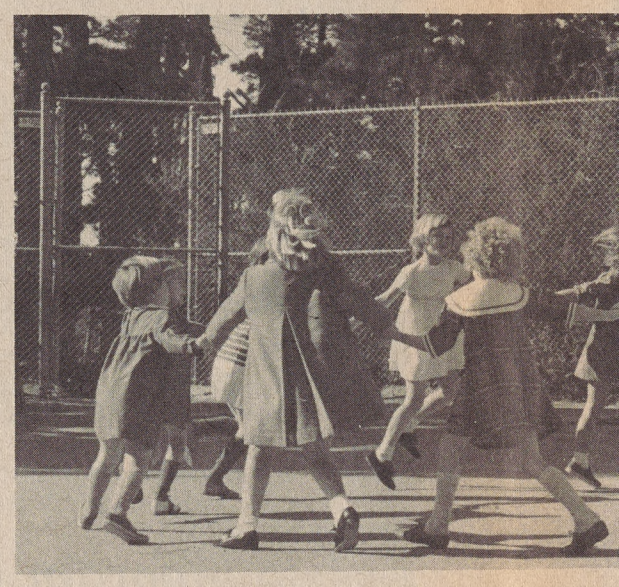


SEVENTH GRADE GIRLS at Carmel Middle School practice a figure eight dribbling drill designed to teach them a specific skill in team sports. Jane Brinsmead and Karen Stone weave in and out of the ten pins, placed on a line. An element of competition is injected with the use of a stop watch as they increase their coordination and agility.

THIRD GRADERS at River School line up for a relay, combining individual achievement with team play.



SEVENTH GRADERS at Middle School practice rebound technique as they all leap for the ball as it bounces off the basket rim. Prowess in the team sports makes for more enjoyment as they go on to more organized games in high school.



Beginning in kindergarten, school children embark on a program which eventually ends with physical education classes in Carmel High School. It may, of course, go on with college sports or voluntary recreation, but during the years in public school, there is a definite plan about "recess" or PE, designed to balance the academic requirements of the curriculum.

Although the actual activity itself differs from age level to age level, the program is still divided into three main categories.

There are games, which begin in the early elementary grades. Actual team sports do not start until third grade, because prior to this age, the youngsters do not have a "team instinct." But at the eight year level, this has started to form.

Secondly, there are individual stunts or activities. These range from the use of playground apparatus in kindergarten and first grade to climbing ropes and using the trampoline at seventh and eighth grade.

Rhythmical activities, the third designation, begin early with such sports as ring-around-the-rosy, and develop into folk dancing or square dancing by sixth grade.

In grade one, 40% of the recess time is spent on games such as "Here we go 'round the mulberry bush," 50% is spent on rhythmical activity and 10% on individual stunts.

In grades five and six, games still comprise 40%, rhythmical activities, 40%, relays 15% and individual, 10%.

In grades seven and eight, games have increased to about 55% with the rhythm activities dropping to 25%, and relays and stunts making up 10% each.

By law in California, there must be 20 minutes of physical education each day from grades kindergarten through sixth. The rule of thumb appears to be 10% of the school day. At fourth, fifth and sixth grades it usually is about 30 minutes and at Middle School, one 40-minute period is required each day.

This is also true of High School, although those involved in competition or intramural sports will have additional time outside of class periods.

At the secondary level, beginning about fourth grade, there is also instruction in individual sports such as tennis, table tennis and golf, to develop both interest and capability in physical activities which the youngsters might carry on through adult life.

During recent years when there has been such an emphasis placed on academic curriculum, there has been a revived emphasis on PE, as a balance. This has been accentuated by such programs as the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

So when a kindergarten child starts telling about what fun he had playing on the swings, it is really all part of a long-range plan to keep him in good shape . . . even though to him it is just recess time!

ROBIN HILLIER and Julie Yurkovich, third graders at River School, do push-u

FIRST GRADERS at Carmel Woods School play ring-around-the-rosy at recess. This is a forerunner to organized games which they will begin in third grade.

er School, do push-ups during PE class, another facet

DIANE RUSSELL, a kindergarten student at Carmelo School, registers delight as she roars down the slide in the playground. She is having a good time, but she is also balancing the time spent on sit-down activities, and keeping her body and mind alert.

CLUB CALENDAR

Gem & Mineral Society

Mrs. Earl (Ruth) Shaw has taken over the job of directing the Pebble Pups of the Gem and Mineral Society. Mrs. Shaw, a retired school teacher, lives in Carmel.

Pebble Pups are first to sixth graders who are sponsored by a parent or other relative who is a member of the Society. His sponsor must accompany him to any adult function or Pebble Pup event he attends.

Members will hear a continuation of a talk and slide show by George Strauch on his trip around the world at their next meeting, Feb. 9 at Brey Hall, Carmel High, 7:30 p.m. At the January meeting he showed specimens collected during his travels as well as pictures of Austria, Switzerland and Idar-Oberstein, the gem cutting center of the world. He will feature his visit to the Orient and New Guinea at the February meeting.

Sierra Club

Jim Ziegler will lead a hike up Rocky Creek Sunday, Feb. 4.

A tributary of the Arroyo Seco, this steep little canyon offers the dramatic contrasts frequently found on the east side of the range, with vegetation changing almost from jungle to desert within a few feet.

This will be an easy hike up to Rocky Creek Camp for lunch and return to the Arroyo Seco picnic area. Total round-trip distance, about five miles. Bring lunch and canteen. Meet at Carmel Valley Post Office parking area at 9 a.m. for the 35-mile drive to the Arroyo Seco.

CV Garden Club

The public is invited to hear Mr. Sherrill Ellsworth speak to the CV Garden Club at its next meeting, on Thursday, Feb. 8, in the Tularcitos multipurpose room at 8 p.m. Mr. Ellsworth will discuss pre-spring garden and lawn preparation.

CV Women's Club

Mrs. John Black and Mrs. Donald Draper, luncheon hostesses for the February meeting of the Carmel Valley Women's Club have planned a roast beef menu to be served at the Holiday Inn. Scheduled for 12 noon, Feb. 7, the luncheon is $3.00 per person.

Mrs. Tom Hefling will be program chairman and has invited as her guest speaker, Mr. David C. Pickett of Carmel Valley.

Mr. Pickett has been associated with Dr. Andrija Puharich, a medical doctor specializing in neuro-physiology and a noted researcher in the field of extra-sensory perception. Dr. Puharich is the author of "The Sacred Mushroom" and "Beyond Telepathy."

Mr. Pickett helped Dr. Purarich edit and index "Beyong Telepathy" and is thoroughly familiar with the subject matter. Mr. Pickett also assisted Dr. Puharich with some of his sacred mushroom experiments aimed at increasing and controlling telepathic ability.

Mr. Pickett's other activities included managing Dr. Puharich's local laboratory, handling publicity, correspondence, and "sensitives." He has a firm conviction that we all have a form of intuition which blends into extra-sensory perception (ESP). Awareness in this area and on this subject leads to personal growth, and, hopefully, more harmony with our hectic environment.

Mr. Pickett can discuss ESP as it applies to space, international affairs, national interest and, his greatest interest, people... particularly children and the need for gentleness and understanding in the increasingly frequent incidence of this perfectly natural capacity.

Dr. Puharich's use of the Fraday Room as a valuable tool in ESP research is a subject which Mr. Pickett is well qualified to discuss. He helped in both the construction and experimentation. He has a simple and dramatic demonstration of its basic function.

Reservations should be made by Feb. 5 with Mrs. James Stewart (624-5845).

CV Lionettes

The Carmel Valley Lionettes held their monthly dinner meeting Thursday at the Los Laureles Lodge. Twenty-nine members attended the evening planned by their hostess, Mrs. Don Draper. An exquisite yellow center piece of dried materials was provided for the head table by a member, Mrs. Norman Skadan, from her shop, Carmel Rancho Florest Shop her shop, Carmel Rancho Florist Shop.

A report was made on the sale of fruit cakes, and an award of appreciation to Mrs. Theo Mirani who had sold the most in this money making project.

New members welcomed to the group were Mrs. Ray Halley, Mrs. Peter Glod and Mrs. Kearn.

Mrs. Draper introduced her husband, Don, a TWA pilot, as guest speaker. His presentation was a TWA film of scenic USA.

Sponsors project to help local children

Col. Olow and family now live in Taiwan

COL. OLOW and Dr. Sam Noordhoff, renowned U.S. plastic and reconstructive surgeon, help Grampa to aid his grandson open up for cleft palate examination.

Lt. Col. John Olow III, of Carmel Meadows is now living in Taipei, Taiwan, Republic of China, as chief of an advisory team and advisor to the commanding general of a field army.

His wife, Toddy, is with him as are their four children, John IV, Sebree Ann, Christopher and Alexander. The eldest son, John, attended Carmel High School last year, but now he is a student in the Taipei American High School.

The family is looking forward to an interesting and new phase of life for the next two years in China.

Seven officers and two enlisted men who make up the advisory team have created an extra mission for themselves in Taiwan. They have established a fund which they call the Lucy and Charlie Brown Foundation. Its main purpose is to help correct harelip and cleft palate defects of the Chinese youngsters in nearby villages.

So far nine have been examined by an Army Specialist who is on duty there and he has agreed to complete the work on these and others as funds become available.

The average cost for each operation is $250 and the initial amount of the fund came from contributions of team members.

Two children have already completed surgery and next week two more will have their first operations.

Lt. Col. Olow has had the legality of their fund checked by the judge advocate and local legal officer and would welcome any support from individuals or groups who are interested in furthering this aid to the Chinese children.

CV Chamber of Commerce

Bottaro names new committees

Pres. Tom Bottaro announced committees of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce.

He asked that the committees meet to elect chairmen and report monthly on activities to directors. "The work of these committees is vital to the entire chamber," Bottaro emphasized.

The committees follow:

Planning Committee includes Dr. Dean Campbell, Skip Marquard and Lew McCreery. Bottaro asked that it consider present and projected development of Valley business areas, review zoning and recommend types of business development needed and possible sites.

On the Beautification and Parks committee are Mae Youngberg, Bob Kvenild and Pat Swan. "To work towards realizing the parks designated on the CV Master Plan, hiking and horse trail, etc.," are its duties indicated by Bottaro. He also urged the group to study ways that the Valley can be kept beautiful, rid it of "eyesores," and plant trees.

Special Events Committee, including Lou Allaire, Will Fay and Luis Wolters, is to plan community events of the Chamber or to participate in. Pres. Bottaro also suggests that a calendar of community events be maintained.

"Fun in the Sun" is the Valley image suggested for promotion by the Advertising Committee, which includes Lou Gardner, Virginia De Maria and Ralph Updike.

Roads and Signs Committee includes Dr. Ed Marcucci, Rex White and Tom Verga. It is asked not only to formulate sign styles acceptable for Valley use but to report non-conforming existing signs.

Finance Committee, which is to budget funds, consists of Ken Van Hagen, Rich Brinton and Bottaro.

Membership Committee includes Joan Bennett, Don McKenzie and Bill Norton.

Auxiliary reviews recent projects

The Ladies Auxiliary of the CV Volunteer Fire Department held its January meeting at the home of new member Mrs. Stan Roberts.

The possibility of making the successful "Playboy Night" fashion show an annual event was discussed. The ladies also heard a report on the children's Christmas party and annual dinner at the Community Center during which a stereo set was presented to the firemen from the auxiliary.

District Deputy Regina Corona reported that glue sniffing has become a problem at Tularcitos and Middle School. She plans to line up a speaker on the subject for a meeting to be open to the community.

The February meeting will be held at the home of lifetime member Mrs. Santos Corona.

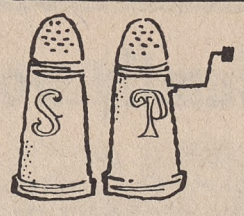
THE Cookery Corner



A potpourri of recipes, culled from columns too long to fit our "corner" but far too good to leave on the cutting room floor, make up our column this week...

With a delectable addition from a teen-aged cook who shows what she can do when she wants to produce something really fancy for special friends or important family occasions or just for fun: "Bavarois au Chocolat" from the files of Miss Jenny Eldridge.

BAVAROIS AU CHOCOLAT
(Jenny Eldridge)

1 1/2 bars (4 oz. size) sweet cooking chocolate or 1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Add to:
2 cups milk in a saucepan. Melt, stirring constantly.
Combine:
4 egg yolks
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar

Beat together for 5 minutes and gradually stir in chocolate mixture. Return to double boiler and cook, stirring with a wooden spoon until it begins to thicken. Take off heat and refrigerate when mixture begins to stiffen.

Beat: 2 cups heavy cream and 3 T. sugar together. When cream stands in peaks fold into chocolate, thoroughly but gently. Pour into 6 cup mold and refrigerate several hours. Unmold and garnish with whipped cream and candied violets.

TAMALE PIE
(Jeannelle Kaminske)

1 1/2 lb. hamburger
1/2 lb. pork sausage
onion and garlic to taste
1 or 2 slices bacon

Fry onion, garlic and bacon together till light brown. Add meat and cook till red disappears. Add:
1 tsp. chili powder
2 tsp. Grandma's Spanish pepper, dissolved in hot water
2 cans tomato sauce
1 can Kernel corn
1 cup corn meal
1 cup milk
ripe olives
salt to taste

Mix together. Bake slowly 3/4 hours.

LEMON APRICOT CAKE
(Shirley Garner)

1 pkg. lemon cake mix
4 eggs
1/2 cup salad oil
1 cup apricot nectar

Beat for 6 or 7 minutes in electric mixer. Pour into ungreased tube pan and bake at 350 for about 50 minutes.

While cake is hot, poke full of holes with a bamboo skewer. Pour lemon glaze, which you make by mixing two cups of powdered sugar with 1/2 cup lemon juice, over it.

MEAT LOAF
(Gertrude Stoney)

1-1/2 lbs. ground beef
1/2 lb. ground pork
1 cup bread crumbs
1 whole egg
1 T. Howald's seasoning
1 diced onion

Mix well and form into a loaf. Bake at 375 for 1 hour.

No additional moisture needed; the pork adds enough fat to bind together this mixture, enhanced by Chef Howald's All 'n One pure food seasoning which the Carmel Valley Women's Club sells to aid the Community Center.

Garden Thoughts

by Salih Mehdy

of the Oleander Garden Shop

An almond tree is like a sweet cherry tree in that in order to bera nuts, the almond needs another variety as pollenizer. Sometimes, two different varieties are not compatible with each other; this means that their pollen does not pollenize. The "Nonpareil" and "IXL" varieties are examples of incompatibility with each other and are called intersterile. Planting "Nonpareil" with "Ne Plus Ultra" is a good example of compatibility.

TOADSTOOLS

It is not easy to distinguish the edible from similar-looking poisonous toadstools, so it is safer and cheaper to buy them than to collect them. Try to take up those in your garden and burn them, and instruct your children to keep away from them.

ROSES

"Bewitched" is a worthy hybrid tea rose to be added to your rose garden. The flowers are rose-pink and fragrant. The plant is vigorous and tall, resistant to mildew and rust. It is a rose said to cast a haunting and hypnotic spell on the observer! I don't know about that, but I know it touches your sense of beauty.

Sometimes wax is used to coat the canes of roses during bare-root season. It protects the canes from excessive water loss. Such a rose should be protected during a hot day while it is still dormant and leafless; the wax melts on such a day and burns. A waxed rose bush should be shaded to keep it cool.

SUMMER BULBS

Those gardeners who missed their chance to plant spring-flowering bulbs may like to plant summer-blooming bulbs now. It is time to prepare the soil for planting gladiolus, tigridia, tuberose, lilies and calla lilies. These latter are not necessarily white any more. Now you find callas in yellow, pink, and there is a new hybrid in which the colors will range from white with purple, through cream, pink, apricot, orange, red, and purple, with many combinations of these colors. The height of this hybrid varies from seven to 15 inches.

Acidanthera is the fragrant gladiolus which I told you about in a previous article. When you come close to these flowers, you detect the aromatic fragrance.

CLAY SOIL

If you happen to live in an area where the soil is heavy clay, then it is wise to improve it. Such clay will stay colder for a longer time, thus prohibiting good seed germination and early root activity. It is colder because it has the capacity to hold more water between its fine grains, and water needs more heat to warm up. When this heavy soil is spaded and cultivated, it forms clods. When it is dry you have to use a chisel to break it and sometimes you wish for a stick of dynamite. What can be done? Calcium has the ability to make the soil more friable and improve its aeration. Calcium is luckily far less expensive than some other elements; it is found in lime and gympsum. Compound B contains 4 1/2% nitrogen to promote growth and 40% calcium sulfate. Spike the soil and then spread this compound at the rate of 4-5 lbs. per 100 square feet. Water in well afterwards. This also improves alkali soil, because it contains iron oxide, which also keeps plants greener.

Ask Gene Baker the greatest dividend garnered on his fortieth birthday and he will surely answer without a moment's hesitation. "The wonderfully original gift from my wife, Anne... a floating chair for the swimming pool!"

Invited to share the momentous occasion were friends from grade school, high school, and college days with whom the Bakers keep in touch but seldom find time to contact on their flying trips to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Quarters for the weekend were arranged for their out-of-town guests at the Blue Sky Lodge.

No imaginative stone was left unturned for the hilarious gifts presented at the birthday dinner held at the Baker home on Calle De Este. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wrightsman of Novato (who were members of the Bakers' wedding party); Maurice Nicole, a classmate from the California College of Arts and Crafts who now makes his home in San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Ross MacKellar of Orinda (who brought entertainment for all of the male members of the celebration in the form of a miniature English train); and Mr. and Mrs. Don Forrest, also of Orinda.

Arriving from Los Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gallie and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hall.

Invited from the Valley and Peninsula were Dr. and Mrs. Ted Stotler, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Wilsey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heaviside, Mr. and Mrs. Burni Threadgill and Mrs. Bettie O'Neal.

VALLEY BRIDGE CLUB

The first place winners in the weekly bridge tournament sponsored by the Valley Bridge Club last Tuesday at the Community Center were Mrs. Penny Enlow and her partner, Col. (ret.) A.L. Friedenthal.

In second place were Mrs. Lois Ann Bethea and Mrs. Irene Baldwin. Third place winners were Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Antoncich.

NINTH BIRTHDAY

Geoffrey Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee, invited classmates to his home on Laurel Dr. after school last week to celebrate his ninth birthday. The boys enjoyed relay races, a treasure hunt, and party refreshments of which the clever birthday cake shaped like an airplane had both "eyeful and edible" appeal!

Invited by Geoffrey to share the special confection and his day were Bradley Klemek, Jimmy Jones, Gordon White, Weegee Matthews, Chris Anderson, and George Lockwood. Geoffrey's little sister, Sandra, also enjoyed the celebration of Geoff and his friends.

CUPCAKE TREE

The special touches that went into the plans for Gretchen Stolfi's birthday party will remain pleasant memories for the ten girls who were invited to spend the afternoon at the Lupin Lane home of Gretchen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stolfi.

Each guest was presented with a spiral notebook, a pencil and materials with which to turn them into attractive mod-designed keepsakes.

The refreshment table was centered with a "cupcake tree" which both added to the decor as well as the delicious party fare. Among the invited guests were Sue and Leslie Caswell, Mary Werner, Jill Janic, Claire Martin, Lori Davis, Sue Groves, Winifred Reuter, Linda Wilson, and Gretchen's sister, Katrin.

CLOWN PARTY

Another January birthday was celebrated by Chris Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Anderson of Country Club Dr. The children played games and enjoyed television cartoons before party refreshments were served with Mrs. Hank Blatnik assisting.

Receiving the clown invitations were Steven Draper, Gaylen Fischer, Charles Hollander, Steve Harris, Roy Kaminske, Mark Nottenkamper, Carl Bresk, Hillary Gray, M'Liz De-Amaral, Karlyn Isaacs, Elizabeth Kern, Kelly Blatnik, J.F. Blatnik, and Chris's brother, Rodney.

hc News from Hacienda Carmel

Dr. Peter Mutke, Carmel and Carmel Valley, was guest speaker at the Jan. 18 meeting of the Casa Lobos Club of Hacienda Carmel. His subject, "Hypnotic Therapy and Medicine Today," was a thought-provoking presentation, enjoyed by Casa Lobos Club members.

Mr. Walter Haluk, associate director of Hopkins Marine Station, Pacific Grove, will be the guest speaker of Casa Lobos Club at the Feb. 15 luncheon meeting. Mr. Haluk, retired insurance man and indemnity executive from Menlo Park and San Francisco, moved into his present scientific and administrative position with this local Stanford University operation at a rather early age. Members are looking forward to his presentation of the aims, purposes and accomplishments of Hopkins Marine Station.

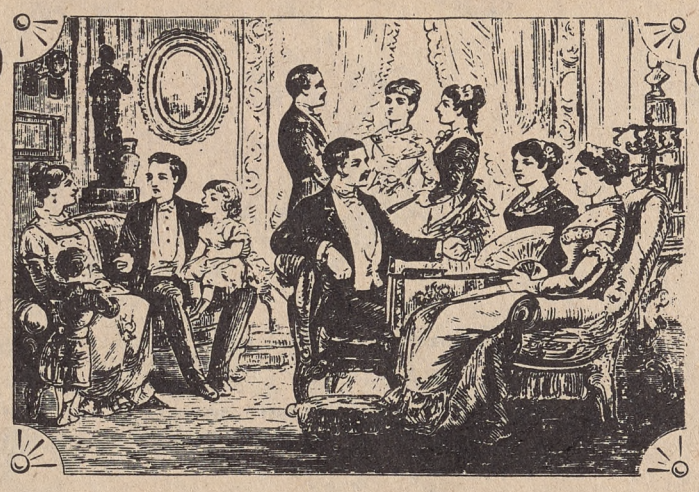
What To Do With The Young Gentleman Caller (1870)

Sometimes when the young gentleman caller comes it can provide a most awkward afternoon. Young people have been known to sit with hardly a thing to say for two to three hours and the young man may be discouraged to ever appear again at the some house (even though the young mistress may be quite alluring).



Cultured and Refined.

This same article goes on to suggest a taffy pull, making fudge or popcorn balls. These more modern days we suggest an adequate rumpus room for dancing, billiards and other somewhat more lively activities. We have a great family house with just that kind of room in Rancho Canada for $65,000, and one in Carmel on Atherton for only $42,500.

Let our old-fashioned kind of attention to your family real estate problems help you find a house to solve the young-gentleman-caller problem.

Kiwanis Club at cooks' school

Some of the area's finest hotels and resorts are taking the lead in hiring more Negroes, particularly waitresses, Charles Mulkey, dean of technical and vocational training for Monterey Peninsula College, told Carmel Valley Kiwanians Tuesday noon.

The group enjoyed a delicious lunch at MPC's Culinary Arts Training Facility, cooked and served by some of the 30-some students.

Del Monte Lodge, La Playa Hotel in Carmel and John Gardiner's Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley were praised by Mulkey for hiring Negro graduates of the Culinary Arts Facility. He said their acceptance and work has been excellent most of the time.

Manager Charles Yeoman of the school said that last year 57 cooks and 105 waiters and waitresses were trained. Serving three counties, the school is financed by the federal anti-poverty program.

"In income tax which its graduates are able to pay, the cost of the school was repaid in its first year," Mulkey added.

Seven Kiwanians Sunday planted a variety of trees and bushes at CV Community Center, beginning the "Buck Raymond Park," named after the late, long-time Kiwanian. Participating were Pres. Kevin Walsh, Charlie Hoisington, committee chairman; Dean Campbell, King Fleming, Hank Palmer, George Clifford and Mark Starr, both Kiwanians and Community Center directors.

Contributing trees and bushes were Oleander Garden Shop, Brattin Nursery, Clifford and Hoisington.

Unicef holiday sales doubled

Carmel Valley doubled its Unicef Christmas card and calendar sales this Christmas over the past season, Mrs. Louis Gardner, CV co-chairman with Mrs. John Senger. Valley sales were $1,340.22.

This was announced at an "appreciation coffee" for Unicef volunteers last week at the San Carlos Hotel. Mrs. John Gratiot, county chairman, announced that over $7,800 had been realized in sales, of which 10% is kept in the county for promotional and educational use.

Mrs. H. Paul Reibe of Carmel, a Unicef corporate member, who has traveled throughout the world as a Unicef volunteer, told what $50 can do to start a health center.

New owners at mid-Valley laundromat

New owners of the Valley Hills laundromat are Cmdr. and Mrs. James Service.

They have renamed it, "The Tub," and a refurbishing job is being completed.

Cmdr. Service left last week for a year aboard the aircraft carrier Ranger, on which he is assistant flight-operations officer. They recently returned to Carmel Valley from an overseas tour at Guam.

Mrs. Service, or Natalie, will manage the laundromat, which is at the entrance of Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.
